KILGORE'S BRED-RITE ITALIAN GREEN SPROUTING BROCCOLI

BROCCOLI. Sow ¼ to ½ pound of seed in seed-bed to plant an acre.

Kilgore's Bred-Rite Italian Green Sprouting or Christmas Calabrese (115 days)

This is the true Calabrese type which is a tremendous yielder. It is the only type that buyers want and it always brings highest prices on the markets. This popular new vegetable has taken Northern markets by storm, and we consider it one of the most profitable fall and winter crops for the South.

CELERY. Sow ½ pound of seed in seed-bed to plant an acre.

Our Western celery seed growing fields are carefully inspected several times each season to eliminate all green spots, green heart and plants which are not absolutely true to type. Short-ribbed plants and those developing poor hearts are destroyed. Seed is saved from only the most desirable plants. Furthermore, we test our celery stocks at Sanford and also in our trial grounds at Plant City a season in advance so we know absolutely what our celery seed will do under Florida conditions before you plant it. Why take a chance on such an expensive crop as celery?

QUALITY

Kilgore's Bred-Rite Seeds are the result of 20 years careful study, experimentation and testing in an endeavor to develop special stocks of seed to meet the requirements of Florida and Southern truck growers.

This high quality seed results in increased production, more uniform pack, better quality, and higher prices than can be secured from most other stocks of seed.

Why plant less than the best?

GRASS AND FARM CROP SEEDS
